

If consumers wish to end or change contact with telemarketers, then the rights of the consumer should be respected. Why do bankers have more power/say so than consumers.